"She is Not Dead But Sleepeth."

Margaret A. Gillespie, wife of John W. Gillespie, was born October 28, 1865, and died at her home on Cavetts Creek, Tazewell county, Va., on June 24, 1910, aged 44 years, 7 months and 26 days.

She was married August 2, 1881, to Esquire John W. Gillespie, and is survived by her husband and six children—three boys and three girls. The deceased was the sister of W. F. Harman.

For 27 years she was a consistent member of the Christian church, and died in the faith of the gospel which had been her solace and strength through all the years of her Christian life. May her husband and her children follow in the faith of the gospel of Christ till they shall become a reunited family where there is no death, neither sorrow nor weeping.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. J. N. Harman, assisted by Rev. Charter Mitchell, at the Cavetts Creek church on the 25th of June. A large crowd attended the funeral, and many expressions of appreciation of the splendid life and character of the deceased were heard. May the sod rest lightly and the sun shine brightly upon this mother's grave till the resurrection morning.

A FRIEND.

In the federal court at Roanoke on last Thursday afternoon a jury returned a verdict for $12,500 in favor of David Ernest, who sued the Norfolk and Western for $20,000 damages for the loss of a limb in February, 1909. The suit was the first held in the State under the United States employers' liability act. Attorneys for Ernest stated their client had been employed at Norfolk, Va., as a fireman on an engine engaged in the handling of interstate coal shipments. They alleged Ernest, while in the act of changing a switch, which was a part of his duties, was run down by an engine, upon which he was serving as a fireman, prior to his leaving the cab to throw the switch, and sustained the loss of his right leg. The federal statute holds liable any corporation engaged in the transportation of interstate commerce, and under the allegation of Ernest's attorneys the verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff.

Mr. James A. Repass, commonly known as "Uncle Gus" was born June 22, 1831, and departed this life June 26, 1910, aged seventy-nine years and four days. Mr. Repass was honest and well liked as a neighbor. He made one mistake, however, in not accepting Christ in his early life. This he realized in his later life and in order to find peace he went to the Bible. He first began to read in 1890 and since then he read the Old Testament through six times and New Testament twenty-four times; the result of these readings was, he found peace at the Crossing. He leaves a large connection and was one of Bland county's oldest citizens. At his request he was laid to rest in a lone grave on his own farm. The funeral was conducted by Rev. W. D. Sharp. A large concourse of people was present with sad hearts as they looked upon this lonely resting place.—Bland Messenger.

During a severe wind and electric storm on last Thursday afternoon lightning struck the wireless mast on the battle ship Delaware, the only American Dreadnaught, which was lying at anchor in the harbor at Norfolk, Va., and one man is reported to have been badly hurt. The big ship was loading ammunition preparatory to her departure from the yard when the accident occurred. There was almost fifteen hundred pounds of powder and fifty six-inch shells on the deck of the ship when the bolt of lightning hit the wireless pole, and had it exploded from sparks the big vessel might have been blown to pieces. One man who was standing beneath the wireless station was hurled through a hatchway by the shock and was rendered unconscious; his injuries, however, consisted of some bad bruises.

Two rats were preparing to make a raid on a pantry, when they discovered a cat lying near the pantry door, apparently fast asleep. The younger of the two rats was advancing boldly on the theory that the cat was entirely unconscious of its presence, when the elder rat checked it, saying: "That cat appears to be asleep, but it will require a certificate that she is dead before I will take any chances on getting within her reach. I was raised in Missouri."

If the Democratic party should gain the next House of Representatives, not even the Democratic leaders themselves, if there are any, that could tell the country what it would mean, or what they propose to accomplish.—Detroit Free Press (Independent.)

Doctor George Ben Johnston, of Richmond, Va., has taken over the Abingdon hospital, and will operate it as a Southwestern Virginia branch of his famous Johnston-Willis hospital at Richmond. For several years Dr. Johnston has realized the need of a hospital in the Southwest, as he has an immense practice in this section of the State. Twelve beds will be maintained at the Abingdon hospital, five of which will be maintained as free beds by the ladies of Abingdon and the board of supervisors of Washington county. Drs. Johnston and Willis will regularly visit the Abingdon hospital to look after the patients who go their for treatment.

LEBANON

Comment Concerning Capital of Contiguous County.

Lebanon, how redolent of sacred memories. Cedar Ridge, whose now denuded sides are but faintly reminiscent of the cedars from which the town received its name.

One could almost believe, after a quick coast down the ridge, and a sharp turn into the old Fincastle road, that they were alighting at an old inn in a village of pastoral Palestine.

Lebanon, nestled on the sunny slopes of the blue grass hills of Cedar Ridge, in the broad valley between the Big Sandy and the Clinch, it presents a view perfectly picturesque. Each way, broken into undulating vales a scene of unwearying beauty. Excepting Tazewell, Lebanon has, perhaps, the most beautiful location of any town in the Appalachian System.

The best sight in a trip to Lebanon is, however, the road between Cleveland and Lebanon. A monument to what the persistency of a persevering few can do in the face of what seems to be insurmountable obstacles. Russell and Tazewell, rich in resources, peopled by the very best, with a network of roads like this sample these counties would be a near realization to an earthly paradise.

The occasion of the trip was a series of ball games between Lebanon and Tazewell. Results: Thursday, 7 to 4 in favor of Lebanon. Friday, 11 to 10 in favor of Tazewell. The games, while exciting in spots, were uninteresting as a whole and marked by rough play on the part of both teams so much so, that the players, stripped for a bath, after the game, looked like foot ball teams that had foolishly tried to play two games in an afternoon. These young gentlemen need to remember the first objects of athletic sports are self restraint and the subordination of self to the interest of the game.

One thing though the game demonstrated, however, that excepting Tazewell, and let it be said here once for all that with the experience of living in various localities in various States and three Territories, not to mention a few excursions into Mexico and Canada, that Tazewell remains always the Mecca of earthly habitation. Then, again excepting Tazewell, Lebanon can turn out more women, both young and old, fairer of face, form and finish than any town of its size in the country.

Only one disagreeable feature of the trip—dogs. You do not see many in the day time, but no wonder. They must sleep. But by night, they are much awake and noisy. One in particular had a voice pitched three octaves higher than the highest C in the human register. One may become accustomed to wailing slumber to the accompaniment of canine howls, but would think it to be a badly acquired taste.

Good Reading.

Most of our readers are interested in either poultry, fruit or farming and each one should be interested in getting the latest work on their favorite pursuit.

We have been able to make an advantageous arrangement with three of the leading exponents of the above subjects that we can make the especially cheap summer rate of only $1.50 for the following papers:

Southern Agriculturalist.
Southern Fruit Grower.
Poultry Culture.

Tazewell Republican.

The regular subscription price of the above mentioned papers would be $2.50 and there can be no stronger offer than a good live poultry journal, a Southern fruit paper and a farm paper that caters especially to the farm interest of the South. In addition to the above you get the Republican that gives you all the news of Tazewell and adjoining counties and the general news of the southwest. To those who prefer a good monthly magazine, our offer of Hampton's with The Republican is still open. For $1.75 you can get the best $2.50 worth of magazine and weekly newspaper value in the country.

Subscribe for the Republican.

Tazewell Fair.

The meeting of the Tazewell Fair Association on September 13, 14 and 15th, promises to be one of the best held in many years. Rapid progress is being made in all departments. The committee in charge of amusements have just signed for a new and improved Ferris Wheel and closed contract for a Merry-Go-Round to furnish pleasure to the young and the old who retain their youth.

In the line of amusements, the racing program will be very complete and the prizes offered will, no doubt attract the best horses from the circuit.

On the first day will be a race of interest locally. A trot or pace, non-record horses from Tazewell and adjoining counties, 5 to enter and 3 to start, for which a premium of $200.00 will be hung up. This should bring out some of our speedy nags and it is hoped our local breeders will see this does not leave the county.

The new Agricultural Building should soon be under way and ready for the fair this fall. This building will house the agricultural and fancy work departments. Both of these departments are to be greatly enlarged and improved this year and will be among the best features of the fair.

Every reader of this paper should be interested in making the fair a success. Do not stop with simply making arrangements to attend the fair yourself but constitute yourself a booster. In every letter you write, from now until the fair, take occasion to mention the date and extend a personal invitation to attend.
